CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Hon. F. W. Hardin to Speak—A Swindler Skips out—Mays Escaped Hanging—Delaney Acquitted—Seven Boys Examined.

A Very Smooth Citizen.

A man giving the name of Tobias M. Jones rented the vacant store room in the McDaniel block some days ago, saying he wanted to start up a jewelry store. He then told the express agent that his name was T. M. Jones and that he had ordered a lot of goods by express. Several valuable packages of diamonds, etc., came to his address and were turned over to him and after receiving them he suddenly skipped the town. It turns out that Jones was a slick swindler who ordered the goods on the credit of Mr. T. M. Jones, our well-known dry goods merchant, saying he had some customers who wanted to buy through him and asking that an assortment be sent. Kendrick & Sons, of Louisville, thwarted his game by sending a man with their goods. Jones is a professional and has worked his scheme in Kansas City and other places.

Delaney goes Free.

The trial of Henry Delaney at Morganfield was ended this week and to the surprise of everybody the verdict was "not guilty." This case was for four years in the courts and its character is well known throughout Western Kentucky. It is a sad commentary on the enforcement of our laws against crime when such men as Delaney are allowed to go unpunished. The jury that tried the case was made up of the following: A. Barnett, M. Robinson, W. F. Black, J. P. Griffin, Thos. Carter, R. A. Keech, Ed. Ijams, W. O. Johnson, Geo. Christian, W. P. Morrow, T. W. Phillips and S. Z. Griffin, all of Henderson county.

Conductor Goodman not Guilty.

The jury in the trial of Conductor Goodman, charged with the murder of Col. Parson, of Natural Bridge, Va., returned a verdict of not guilty Saturday. Goodman is a C. & O. conductor, and in an altercation with Parsons at Clifton Forge, about a year ago, shot and killed him in the lobby of Gladys Inn, the leading hotel of the place. Goodman was indicted for murder and at the first trial was convicted and given eighteen years in the penitentiary. The verdict was set aside and a new trial was ordered, resulting in an acquittal.

Seven Boys Want to be Soldiers.

The examination of applicants for appointment to the West Point cadetship was held Wednesday at Hotel Latham. The young men who stood the examination were seven in number as follows: W. J. Alves, J. R. Jones and H. G. Smith, of Henderson county; V. D. Dixon and J. J. Henry, of Webster county; Frank Rash, of Hopkins county, and Lucien Dade, of Christian county. The examining board was composed of Prof. T. S. McCall and Judge Joe McCarroll, of Hopkinsville, and Prof. J. J. Glenn, of Madisonville.

Hotel Latham Directory.

The stockholders of the Hopkinsville Hotel Company held the biennial meeting Monday for the election of a new directory. Of the seven directors five were re-elected and two new men were put in. The board now stands as follows: Jno. C. Latham, H. C. Gant, E. M. Flack, A. H. Anderson, E. P. Campbell, F. W. Dabney and E. B. Long. Mr. Gant was chosen president and Ira L. Smith secretary of the board.

The Equinoctial Storm.

Spring suffered a serious relapse Wednesday and there was some very disagreeable weather throughout the day. Wind, rain, snow and sleet all took a hand, and these were followed by a colder wave yesterday. As today is the beginning of spring according to the almanac, we ought not to be troubled with much more winter weather.

Another Ocean Disaster.

The Spanish warship Reina Regente, missing for more than a week past, is now known to have sunk near the straits of Gibraltar. The wreck was discovered by the cruiser Alfonso XIII., only twenty inches of the Reina Regente's masts being above water. The crew of 420 men is supposed to have been lost.

Convict Captured.

About three weeks ago, Ed. Leigh, col., who was working on the county chain gang near Clarksville, made good his escape. He was re-arrested Tuesday evening at Elmo, in this county, by Deputy Sheriff P. D. Marable and Officer Stafford of Clarksville, and was taken back to serve out his sentence.

MAYS NOT HANGED.

The Murderer of W. B. Lyle Gets a Life Sentence.

The trial of Pete Mays, col., for the murder of W. B. Lyle, a white man, near Longview, Feb. 14, was begun Tuesday and concluded the following day, the verdict being a life sentence.

The jury was empaneled without much difficulty, half of the jurors being taken from the regular panel. The following were the jurors: D. E. Fowler, Alex. Gilliland, N. A. Barcott, J. M. Hipkins, J. H. Brown, P. C. Carter, Jerry Coleman, D. J. McChord, A. V. Rutland, W. T. Hight, Jno. T. Ricketts and Geo. W. Lawson.

The evidence in the case was substantially as published in the KENTUCKIAN at the time of Lyle's assassination. The prosecution was conducted by Mr. Garnett assisted by County Attorney Anderson, and Mays was defended by Messrs. G. W. Southall and W. S. Withers. The testimony was finished in a few hours and Messrs. Southall and Anderson spoke Tuesday afternoon. On Wednesday morning Mr. Withers closed the defense in a fine argument, mainly against the infliction of capital punishment, and Mr. Garnett followed with one of his powerful pleas for the enforcement of the law. He spoke for an hour and a half, the audience filling every available seat in the court house, and hundreds who could not find seats stood in the aisles. He urged the jury to have the nerve and manhood to give the murderer his just deserts and remove him from the earth by the death sentence. The jury took the case shortly after noon and arrived at a verdict in about half an hour. Mays was given a life sentence in the penitentiary. He was promptly sentenced and taken to Edgelyville on the afternoon train, as the guilty wretch stood in abject fear of mob violence if he remained in the county jail Wednesday night.

It is Now Evangelist Boyd.

Rhey Boyd, of Paducah, has actually begun his work as a minister of the gospel. The Paducah News says: "A number of Paducah people took advantage of the cheap rates and went to Fulton yesterday to hear Rhey Boyd make his initial effort as an evangelist. Those who have heard Mr. Boyd make his eloquent speeches in court and at other places expected to hear a good talk, but they were not prepared for the plain, simple appeal, clothed in words spoken from a sincere heart, that fell upon their listening ears. Mr. Boyd spoke for an hour and a half and there were none who grew tired or desired the speaker to end. Everywhere in the congregation the most intense interest was displayed and when he had finished illustration after illustration, not a sound could be heard except the usual cheering amen of sympathetic church workers. At the conclusion many came forward and professed Christ, while twenty or more came forward for prayer and fully two hundred gave the speaker their hand and promised to lead more consistent Christian lives. The sight was indeed a remarkable one and showed to its fullest the magnetism and power of the speaker."

Bob Wall "Scaled" the Wall.

Bob Wall, a negro serving a sixty days' sentence in the work house, escaped from that institution Wednesday, but was captured shortly afterward, and returned to prison. Wall had cut out of his cell when discovered in the morning and was ordered tied down on the "strap" board. This was done and he was left alone for a few minutes. He made good use of the time by freeing himself, and scaling the walls was soon out of sight. Rumors were sent out and it was not many minutes before he was located. Wall had concealed himself under the old toll gate house and the guard took him in without trouble. He will likely serve double time for his last offense.

"Hooray, For Casey!"

For some days past the friends of the enterprising president of the Inquirer company have been greatly concerned about his health. There was a care worn look about his broad, smiling face, and his infectious laugh was hushed. But that's all done away with now, and when Mr. Casey returns from Hartford, where he was called Thursday, he will carry a smile that would paralyze a kodak fiend on sight. The cause of his joy is the fact that Mr. Casey, on Thursday afternoon, became the father of a ten-pound baby boy.—Owensboro Inquirer.
